

Project Theatre is grateful to the many companies, charitable trusts and individuals who make generous financial contributions towards our work.

When you make a commitment to Project Theatre we make the following commitment to you:

- We will always be honest, truthful, transparent and professional in our dealings with you.
- We will acknowledge your gift swiftly, handle it responsibly and apply to the purpose for which we requested it.
- We will respect your privacy and dignity and will only release details of your gift with your consent or if disclosure is required by law.
- We will keep you informed about the project that you are supporting in an honest and accessible manner.
- We will ensure the most tax efficient treatment of your gift, both for you and for Project Theatre
- We will comply with all relevant UK legislation.
- We will respond to any concerns you might have swiftly and efficiently.
